

Digby Library Joins Regional Book Service

Ch. Herald. Feb. 5/69.
DIGBY — The Digby Library is to become a branch library with bookmobiles providing service to the communities of the municipality.

Approval was given by Digby Municipal Council at its January meeting to join the regional service for Western Nova Scotia.

Headquarters for the western county's regional library will be in Yarmouth, where there is a large and suitable building for the purpose.

Assistant director of provincial libraries addressed Council, seeking their approval. Digby Library Association was represented by its president John R. Nichols.

FAVORABLE DECISION

Both the Town and Municipality of Digby have made favorable decisions. The service will begin as soon as agreements are signed and staff and equipment obtained.

The new library building in Digby is being made ready for use with the present collection of books, until a supply of new ones arrives. The former quarters on Water Street are now closed.

Total contributions to the Digby Library Building Fund have now reached $3,600.

Workmen have just about completed renovations on the new library on Montague Row.
